EINA PRODUCT DESIGN SCHOLARSHIPS

If you've got a product design idea to develop, produce and market, EINA will help you.

Call for scholarships for the Master in Design and Editing of a Product. 2019-2020 academic year EINA, Barcelona

WHO IT'S FOR

Students and/or professionals who have a design idea or project that they want to develop, produce and market. A university degree is required, preferably in the fields of design or creation.

WHAT DOES THE SCHOLARSHIP CONSIST OF?

The scholarship provides a discount of € 3,360 on enrolment on the EINA Master in Design and Editing of a Product for the 2019-2020 academic year.

The Master in Design and Editing of a Product poses an academic course designed specifically to meet all the knowledge needed to design a product that can be acquired from a publisher through the market.

It offers resources to generate a defined design proposal, and tests its viability as auto production models, their relationship with the context, and their introduction to the market from established new generation business models.

The degree can be obtained by taking all of the contents in one academic year or sequentially, studying each postgraduate diploma (Postgraduate Diploma in Product Design: ideation, validation and production and Postgraduate Diploma in Product Edition) and the final project.
